It is believed that the revolt was stirred up by a number of governors of the Russian White Guards, whose intentions are unknown.

It is possibly a sequel to the twoyear old tension between two sections of the population.

The revolt is not likely to lead to hostilities as both sides are hadly armed and scattered throughout the country, where there are few roads and no railways .--Reuter.

BRITONS ARRESTED GERMANY

Government Making Enquiries

London, Apr. 27. Asked in the House of Commons what steps are being taken in connexion with the arrest in Germany of Mr. W. Mann and an Indian named Tagori, the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, said that Mann was arrested during a police raid on a club in Berlin. The British Ambassador had addressed an official note to the German Foreign Minister asking that a full investigation be made into the circumstances.

Regarding Tagori, it was reported that he was arrested near the Austro-Bavarian frontier, and it was not certain that he was a Bri-tish subject. Inquiries had been sages Ordinance, 1994. Received. April made from the Bavarian authorities and a report was on its way. -British Wircless.

In Long Beach, Compton, and other southern California cities damaged by recent earthquakes, trucks and steam shovels are already busy clearing away debris to make way for rebuilding. A Compton bank building wrecked by the earth tremors is shown at right, U. S. sailors patrolled atreets, helped with first aid and relief work.

The flag-draped casket containing the body of Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, victim of an assassin's bullet intended for President Roosevelt, is shown being borne by white-clad American Legionnaires from a Miami, Fla., funeral parlour to be placed in the cortege that escorted it to the relirond station as saddened throngs looked on. Mismi police formed a guard of honour on the train which bore the late mayor's body to Chicago for burial.

April, 1933.

Dear Sir.

The economic depression and the general unsettled state of the world is really evolutionary and our greatest actual enemy to-day is the feeling of fear engendered by existing conditions. Nations fear each other: individuals fear financial reverses, loss of employment, etc., and this feeling of apprehension is the grimmest spectre that has ever stalked abroad. If it can be laid low one of the most potent contributors to unrest will disappear. Cast away fear and a surprising physical and mental immunity will be gained from the ills to which we are helf.

There need be no fear of mechanical breakdown if you use Castrol motor oil in your Car. The Mollisons', Captain Malcolm Campbell, Kaye Don and hosts of other record breaking Aviators and Motorists who took their lives in their hands owe their success largely to the fact that they chose the best available weapons in their respective fights and reduced fear. to a fraction as Castrol reduces friction.

Castrol is sold by the British Imperial gallon which is 20% more than the American or wine gallon and it is obtainable at all the leading garages but if you have any trouble in getting supplies please give us a ring (21746) and we will give immediate attention to your requirements.

HONGKONG is thronging to see Wendy Barrie in Wedding Rehearsal. They want to see the Co-lony's first product for the British screen. I joined the expectant crowds on Wednesday and found Wondy Barrie—yes good, very good. A distinct capture for the English studies (I only hope they will go the right way about keeping her), and a charming actress of whom Hongkong can well be proud and satisfied. But beyond Wendy Barrio there is something about Wedding Rehearsal which ennuot full to capture the imagination. It has, I think, the widest appeal of any British film seen in liongkong for a year. It gives us a new introduction to the development of the English producers' conception of modern cinematic technique. Much of it is mimicry, but it is so excellently done that at the time one is inclined to believe that it is original in idea and presentation.

▲ LEXANDER Korda, who directed Wedding Rehearsal has not been afraid to follow the lines of Ernst Lubitsch in emphasising the satirical passages of the picture. Thus in the opening, when we are shown a whole front page of a London "daily" bearing the news of imminent war and a terrible earthquake thrown out for a report of a Society wedding, the satirical gesture is heightened by the pounding of the printing presses with a chorus of voices maintaining tempo and rhythm. Again Korda uses his imagination eleverly to portray a psychological study of the reactions of various people to society weddings. In it he blends an attractive use of who play opposite each other in the camera and a quick appreciation "Under-Cover Man" now showing of wit when the single explctive "Blast" is carried round the world through a series of characters finally TOLLYWOOD can be very droll! remember handled "All Quiet on the Benjamin Gott, formerly Director of resting in Hyde Park, where a ty- But at the moment I am puzzled as Western Front" does. He handles his part with consumate skill, and surrounded as he is by an array of artistes such as Lew Cody, Roscoe Karns, David Landau and Nancy Carroll, experiences no difficulty in convincing the audience that Under-Cover Man is a good film. It followed pictures such as Gentlemen of the Press and Young Man of Manhatten, and those who saw either, or both, of these last mentioned pictures, will be able to form their own conclusions about the different treatment accorded The Front Page. But this apart, the chief interest of the film to the overage cinema-goer is the starring of Adolphe Menjou as the editor of the paper around which the story is woven. When the six selected Governors meet, they will choose the representatives of the "public." Many names of prominent persons have been put forward. Miss Ishbel MacDonald's name has been mentioned, and among others are Lord Lee of Farcham, who is actively connected with the Gaumont-British Corporation, and who has just returned from Hollywood; Lord Eustace Percy, Sir Cecil Levita, of the L.C.C., Lady Astor, Viccounters Snowden, lately a B.B.C. Governor, Lady Simon, a member of the Licensing Commission, Lord Elgin, and Colonel John Buchan, who was one of the expected nominees of the commission.

ONE question which will be asked U is as to what "public" these prominent people represent. A consideration which the selected Governors might bear in mind is the selection of the newly appointed free and independent inquirer of the British Board of Film Cenors, who has shown that he is actively in touch with public opinion in films.

It has been suggested that the posi-Tala Birell, as she appears in be held jointly by a representative of the film industry and a nominee of the commission. FACE THE FACTS.

The text-book, "Dials and How to Decipher Them." by Professor Kelly (our copy from Dodder and Company) is crowded with useful notes for those with the courage to examine their own faces. Some typical extracts:--

"Ears .- A thick car indicates a quarrelsome disposition; an ear presenting a gnawed or bitten appearance shows that the owner is still carning money; a ploughed or gravelworn surface shows that he gets drunk and comes home on it. An exceptionally long ear indicates political aptitude; if the car is missing altogether, it denotes that he is married.

COMBINED NAVY WIN A VERY KEEN MATCH

"YOUNG MEN" DISORGANISED BY TEAM ALTERATIONS

The water polo season of 1933 has officially started at the European Y.M.C.A.

Yesterday the "Young Men" had their first match of the summer when they entertained the Combined Navy side, and were defeated 5-4, after leading 3-1 at half time.

The Navy turned out their strongest team possible and caught the Y.M.C.A. napping.

Two changes were made in the "Y" side and this rather upset the team work. J. Henry could not turn out and Kerr made too late

Outstanding in the Navy team were Hutton at centre-half and Laker at centre-forward. Both are County players at Home, and it is a pity that Laker is to be lost to Hongkong polo. THE PLAYERS.

A previous conviction for theft in 1913, and subsequent banishment for five years, was admitted by the defendant.

Mr. Kwan, addressing the Bench, said the defendant was first convicted shortly after his arrival here in 1913, on a charge of larceny by finding, and served six weeks. He was subsequently banished for five years, and at the expiration of that term, he immediately returned in 1919. Defendant had been in Hongkong ever since and had reformed, and on this occasion he was probably in financial trouble, and yielded to temptation. He had four dependents, an aged mother, a wife, a child of 11 years of age, and a sister-in-law, to support.

Sergeant Fowlie remarked" that defendant would be automatically banished at the expiration of the sentence.

Taking a lenient view, the Magistrate passed sentence of six week's hard labour.

When Work is a Burden.

You may not suspect partial constipation. But this is a frequent cause. Incomplete elimination of waste matter results in gradual accumulations which contaminate the blood, resulting in loss of mental and physical energy. Constipation either slight or severe, reduces vitality, interferes with digestion, causes flatulence, loss of appetite and resultant mal-nutrition. The constipated person cannot possible feel fit and his work is proportionately more burden-some. Try a few doses of Pinkettes and note what a difference is immediately effected. Pinkettes gently as nature but with a pleasing thoroughness, cleanse the entire food tract and digestive system, put an end to contamination of the blood, restore you to happiness and energetic enjoyment of your work. The occasional dose keeps you fit. All chemists can supply you with Pinkettes, Liver and Laxative Per-Pinkettes, Liver and Laxative Perfection.

CINEMA SCREENINGS.

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES.

Criticism has occasionally been levelled at the lack of distinction in the dresses worn in British films. There will be no reason to eavil in this regard at "Wedding Rehearsal", which has been described as one of the best-dressed films made in a British studio. The loveliest frocks for every hour of the day are worn in the picture, and no effort was spared to get exclusive designs from the lending Inshlon houses. Among the crentions that will delight the heart of every woman who sees the production are twelve specially designed bridesmald's ensembles, exquisite dresses, lovely evening frocks and perfectly fitting riding habits.

Some of the prettiest frocks are worn by Wendy Barrie and John Gardner, who play the "Roxbury Twins." These are two of the four young actresses signed up on a long-term contract for London Film Productions by Alexander Korda, the producer. They are making their debut in "Wedding Rehearsal". Owing to the fact that they are "twins" for the nurnose of the film, they dress alike in every respect and affect an identical style in hair-dressing and dress necessories. Some striking creations were specially designed for Lady Tree and Kate Cutler, who play important parts in the picture. Unusual attention was also paid to the dressing of the crowd artistes, resulting in an impeccable fashion background, for this brilliant English production.

"Wedding Rehearsal" is released by Ideal Films Ltd. Make a point of seeing this most enjoyable of comed-

"Wedding Rehearsal" is now showing at the King's Theatre. Tallulah and Montgomery

Tallulah Bankhead, who shares co-starring honours with Robert Montgomery in "Fnithless," Sunday's attraction at the Queen's Theatre is an interesting illustration of the difference between temperament and temperamentality in screen stars.

Miss Bankhead is high-strung, nervous and almost volcanic on the set, both before the camera and behind the lines. She is an example of highly charged temperament.

But temperamental she is not, according to Harry Beaumont who directed "Faithless." Beaumont says she is delightfully amenable to direction and tireless in her efforts, Adrian, who designs the gowns for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer stars, marveled at her willingness to go hungry noonday after noonday for fittings al though she hates to bother about clother.

Portraits. interviews, ' wardroug fittings and endless rehearsals are things she had contend with besides the actual work of playing before the cumera. Tallulah Bankhead, because she is so surcharged with spirit, is an absorbing study on the film set.

She cannot sit still a minute or relax. She has a habit of running to a mirror to comb her hair-not through necessity but nervousness.

The film rights to the outstanding Broadway stage success "The Front Page", which comes to the King's Theatre on Sunday next were bought for a huge sum. The film was produced by one of the most colourful producers the industy has even had; the man who, in spite of his limited experience, has never had a failure, Howard Hughes.

The successful producer secured the outstanding director of the past year, Lewis Milestone, who made the picture unanimously selected as "the" picture of 1930 "All Quite on the Western Front".

Though there is no star part in "The Front Page", Adolphe Menjou star of many films was engaged in one of the principal roles; Pa O'Brien, this year's find from the singe, for another, while others include the comedy stars, Edwards Everett Horton, and Slim Summerville; as well as Mary Brian, Walter Catlett, Matt Moore, and other brilliant players.

Can true love come to a woman who has gone through life breaking many men's hearts, serene in her ability to love and to "forget" when she has tired of each new lover? History proves that to such a woman sophisticated, blase and apparently heartless, the "grand passion" brings an absolutely devastating experience and the tremendous depth of her feeling brings about a complete change in her ontire outlook. Her steely exterior drops from her, and she becomes the abject slave of "her man, ready, if need be, to follow him to the ends of the earth.

Such a situation forms a part of the story of "Nagana", the thrilling Universal drama which opened to-day at the Central Theatre, with Tala Birell, exotic Vlennese beauty, in the principal female role. Notorious for the multiplicity of her lovers, she finally falls genuinely in love with Melvyn Douglas in his role of Dr. Radnor, head of an organization engaged in fighting the savages of jungle diseases in Africa, and follows to a plague infested native village, in spite of the fact that he has repulsed her advances. Braving the attacks of wild beasts, she finally arrives in Nagoru, and here begins a strange existence amid the savage tribes of the African interior. A fire brings about a veritable stampede of wild animals, and the picture reaches its climax in scenes of the wildest confusion. "Nagana" was directed by Ernat L. Frank.

Just because it is possible to make a slam on a hand does not necessarily mean that the slam should be bid. We often find a hand containing several winning finesses and a lot of good breaks with which a slam is made.

Take, for example, the following hand, which is selected from tournament recently held in New York. Several players made the slam-some at spades, some at hearts, while one player was lucky enough to make a grand slam at no trump due to a spade opening. However, not one pair bid for a

The Bidding

At the majority of tables South bid one heart. West passed, and North made a one over one forcing bid of one spade.

South showed his second suitdiamonds. This makes the third constructive bid which now forces North to re-bid. While North had a one over one force, he has nothing but length in spades, therefore his proper response is a sign-off, bid of two spades.

South is now in a peculiar position-if he jumps to four hearts,

Thousands of Chinese are gazing to-day at the first real war trophy brought to Peking—a Japanese bombing plane which was shot down in the Lan River re-

People are coming from all over the city to see the plane which has been placed on exhibition.

The machine is badly smashed and burned in places, but enough remains to indicate that it was a recent all-metal model built to carry eight bombs.

The theory is held that it was one of the machines purchased by patriotic groups in Japan.

Not the least interested of the spectators of the wreckage were a number of Japanese officers, who were observed to be making careful notes.

SOVIET ASPERITIES IN C.E.R. DISPUTE

(SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH").

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, April 28, 2.07 p.m.)

LONDON, APR. 28. THE BELIEF IS GAINING GROUND RAPIDLY THAT EVENTS IN THE FAR EAST ARE MOVING TOWARDS ANOTHER RUSSO-JAPANESE WAR.

SOVIET ASPERITIES OVER THE CHINESE EASTERN RAILWAY DISPUTE ARE DRAWING INCREASING ATTEN-TION TO THE MANCHURIAN COCKPIT AND JAPANESE TROOP MOVEMENTS, TOGETHER WITH REPORTS OF RED ARMY CONCENTRATIONS, ARE REGARDED AS OMINOUS PORTENTS.

A well-known cartoonist depicts a diminutive Japan in the boxing ring, having sent an enormous China over the ropes, smugly preparing to meet a huge "Sovietski" in the next round of the Heavyweight Championship of the Far East.

Dear Sir,

April, 1933.

The economic depression and the general unsettled state of the world is really evolutionary and our greatest actual enemy to-day is the feeling of fear engendered by existing conditions. Nations fear each other: individuals fear financial reverses, loss of employment, etc., and this feeling of apprehension is the grimmest spectre that has ever stalked abroad. If it can be laid low one of the most potent contributors to unrest will disappear. 'Cast away fear and a surprising physical and mental immunity will be gained from the ills to which we are heir.

There need be no fear of mechanical breakdown if you use Castrol motor oil in your Car. The Mollisons', Captain Malcolm Campbell, Kaye Don and hosts of other record breaking Avlators and Motorists who took their lives in their hands owe their success largely to the fact that they chose the best available weapons in their respective fights and reduced fear to a fraction as Castrol reduces friction.

Castrol is sold by the British Imperial gallon which is 20% more than the American or wine gallon and it is obtainable at all the leading garages but if you have any trouble in getting supplies please give us a ring (21746) and we will give immediate attention to your requirements.

Yours faithfully,

But beyond Wendy Barrie there is some-thing about Wedding Rehearsal which cannot fail to capture the imagina-tion. It has, I think, the widest appeal of any British film seen in Hongkong for a year. It gives us a new introduction to the development of the English producers' conception of modern einematic technique. Much of it is mimicry, but it is so excellently done that at the time one is inclined to believe that it is original in idea and presentation.

A LEXANDER Korda, who directed IN Wedding Rehearsal has not been afraid to follow the lines of Ernst Lubitach in emphasising the satirical passages of the picture. Thus in the opening, when we are shown a whole front page of a London "daily" bearing the news of imminent war and a terrible earthquake thrown out for a report of a Society wedding, the antirical genture is heightened by the pounding of the printing presses with a chorus of voices maintaining tempo and rhythm. Again Korda uses his imagination cleverly to portray a psychological study of the reactions of various people to society weddings. In it he blends an attractive use of who play opposite each other in the camera and a quick appreciation "Under-Cover Man" now showing of wit when the single expletive through a series of characters finally TTOLLYWOOD can be very droll! remember handled "All Quiet on the Benjamin Gott, formerly Director of resting in Hyde Park, where a ty- II But at the moment I am puzzled as pical "Red" orator is himself blasting to its real direction-its drollery is at dings. BURGLARY CASE TWO MEN GAOLED

Tang Lam and Chan Fuk were charged before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, with breaking and entering No. 125, Thompson Road, and stealing jewellery valued at $500. Chan Wing-so, a woman, and Tang Yung, were charged with receiving stolen property.

The first three admitted the charges, but the fourth pleaded not guilty. Detective Sergeant Fitches accepted the plea. Fourth defendant was a brother of the first and it was quite possible he did not know the things had been stolen. Witness also thought third defendant was innocent in this respect.

Mr. Schofield bound third defendant over in a surety of $150 to be of good behaviour for one year. The first and second defendants were ordered to pay $100 each to the complainant for the property not recovered, or to go to prison for two months in default, and they were further sentenced to two months' imprisonment on the robbery charge, the sentences to run consecutively.

OPIUM RAIDS ANOTHER DIVAN DISCOVERED

A Chinese woman, described as a regular dealer, in opium, was fined $240 or two month's gaol, by Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning.

A divan keeper, of 10 .Jubilce Street, was fined $100 or six weeks, and a further penalty of $25 or 14 days was imposed for the possession of one mace of opium, Revenue Officer W. Ward said that the divan had been raided quite frequently.

The text-book, "Dials and How to Decipher Them," by Professor Kelly (our copy from Dodder and Company) is crowded with useful notes for those with the courage to examine their own faces. Some typical extracts:—

"Ears.—A thick ear indicates a quarrelsome disposition; an car presenting a gnawed or bitten appearance shows that the owner is still carning money; a ploughed or gravelworn surface shows that he gets drunk and comes home on it. An exceptionally long ear indicates political aptitude; if the car is missing altogether, it denotes that he is married.

Nosc-Colour (if possible in conjunction with breath) is the best guido hore. A reliable scale is:-Rose-pink, beer; vermillion, beer and gin; lobster, vodka; maroon, O.P. rum. In the case of maiden ladics, omit these deductions and refer with tact to the weather. A much-enlarged nose shows a talkic—fiend who has tried to imitate Hollywood language. "Eyes.—If badly crossed, in the effort to see two ways at once, they indicate a pedestrian. Eyes protruding like gooseberries denote a subject who has received his hotel account or alternatively a frequenter of the beach at Repulse:

WATER POLO STARTS AT Y.M.C.A.

COMBINED NAVY WIN A VERY KEEN MATCH

"YOUNG MEN" DISORGANISED BY TEAM ALTERATIONS

The water polo season of 1933 has officially started at the European Y.M.C.A.

Yesterday the "Young Men" had their first match of the summer when they entertained the Combined Navy side, and were defeated 5-4, after leading 3-1 at half time.

The Navy turned out their strongest team possible and caught management the Y.M.C.A. napping.

Two changes were made in the "Y" side and this rather upset the team work. J. Henry could not turn out and Kerr made too late an appearance.

Outstanding in the Navy team were Hutton at centre-half and Laker at centre-forward. Both are County players at Home, and it is a pity that Laker is to be lost to Hongkong polo. THE PLAYERS.

On the whole none of the Y.M.C.A. players acquitted, themselves very creditably. Nicolls, deputising for Angus in goal, lacks experience more than anything else. Donn displayed the need of practice and Schreuder, although to the forefront was not Marquis Hall ran a couple of allowed to be seen at his best excellent races in good company dur- owing to the disjointment of the ing its last two outings over the team. While conversing with his friend, he looked and saw chain and purse from the pocket. Shanghai. He shouted "Thief," and the defendant hastened to the entranco of the lift, but he was caught by the complainant before he could get there. Defendant was seen to drop the articles near the hat-

A previous conviction for theft in 1913, and subsequent banishment for five years, was admitted by the defendant.

Mr. Kwan, addressing the Beach, said the defendant was first convicted shortly after his arrival here in 1913, on a charge of larceny by finding, and served six weeks. He was subsequently banished for five years, and at the expiration of that term, he immediately returned in 1919. Defendant had been in Hongkong ever since and had reformed, and on this occasion he was probably in financial trouble, and yielded to temptation. He had four dependents, an aged mother, a wife, a child of 11 years of age, and a sister-in-law, to support.

Sergeant Fowlie remarked that defendant would be automatically banished at the expiration of the

Taking a lenient view, the Magistrate passed sentence of six week's hard labour.

When Work is a Burden.

You may not suspect partial constipation. But this is a frequent cause. Incomplete elimination of waste matter results in gradual accumulations which contaminate the blood, resulting in loss of mental and physical energy. Constipation either slight or severe, reduces vitality, interferes with digestion, causes flatulence, loss of appetite and resultant mal-nutrition. The constipated person cannot possible feel fit and his work is proportionately more burden-some. Try a few doses of Pinkettes and note what a difference is immediately effected. Pinkettes gently as nature but with a pleasing thoroughness, cleanse the entire food tract and digestive system, put an end to contamination of the blood, restore you to happiness and energetic enjoyment of your work. The occasional dose keeps you fit. All chemists can supply you with Pinkettes, Liver and Laxative Perfection. fection.

CINEMA SCREENINGS.

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES.

Criticism has occasionally been levelled at the lack of distinction in the dresses worn in British films. There will be no reason to cavil in this regard at "Wedding Rehearsal", which has been described as one of the best-dressed films made in a British studio. The lovellest frocks for every hour of the day are worn in the picture, and no effort was spared to get exclusive designs from the leading fashion houses. Among the creations that will delight the heart of every woman who sees the production are twelve specially designed bridesmaid's ensembles, exquisite dresses, lovely evening frocks and perfectly fitting riding habits.

Some of the prettiest frocks are worn by Wendy Burrie and John Gardner, who play the "Roxbury Twins." These are two of the four young actresses signed up on a long-term contract for London Film Productions hy Alexander Korda, the producer. They are making their debut in "Wedding Rehenradl". Owing to the fact that they are "twins" for the purpose of the film, they dress alike in every respect and affect an identical style in hair-dressing and dress accessories. Some striking creations were specially designed for Lady Tree and Knte Cutler, who play important parts in the picture. Unusual attention was also paid to the dressing of the crowd artistes, resulting in an impeccable fashion background for this brilliant English production.

"Wedding Rehearsal" is released by Ideal Films Ltd. Make a point of seeing this most enjoyable of comed-

"Wedding Rehearsal" is now showing at the King's Theatre.

Tallulah and Montgomery Tallulah Bankhead, who shares co-starring honours with Robert Montgomery in "Fnithless," Sunday's attraction at the Queen's Theatre is an interesting illustration of the difference between temperament and temperamentality in screen stars.

Miss Bankhead is high-strung, nervous and almost volcanic on the set, both before the camera and behind the lines. She is an example of highly charged temperament,

But temperamental she is not, according to Harry Beaumont who directed "Faithless." Beaumont says she is delightfully amenable to direction and tircless in her efforts. Adrian, who designs the gowns for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer stars, marveled at her willingness to go hungry noonday after noonday for fittings although she hates to hother about clothes.

Portraits, interviews, wardroug fittings and endless rehearsals are things she had contend with besides the actual work of playing before the camera. Tallulah Bankhead, because she is so surcharged with spirit, is an absorbing study on the film set. She cannot sit still a minute or relax. She has a habit of running through necessity but nervousness "The Front Page" to a mirror to comb her hair-not

The film rights to the outstanding Broadway stage success "The Front Page", which comes to the King's Theatre on Sunday next were bought for a huge sum. The film was produced by one of the most colourful producers the industy has even had; the man who, in spite of his limited experience, has never had a failure, Howard Hughes.

The successful producer secured the outstanding director of the past year, Lewis Milestone, who made the picture unanimously selected as "the' picture of 1930 "All Quite on the Western Front".

Though there is no star part in "The Front Page", Adolphe Menjou star of many films was engaged in one of the principal roles; Pat O'Brien, this year's find from the stage, for another, while others include the comedy stars, Edward: Everett Horton, and Slim Summerville; as well as Mary Brian, Walter Catlett, Matt Moore, and other brillinnt players.

Can true love come to a woman who has gone through life breaking many men's hearts, screne in her ability to love and to "forget" when she has tired of each new lover? History proves that to such a woman. sophisticated, blase and apparently heartless, the "grand passion" brings an absolutely devastating experience and the tremendous depth of her feeling brings about a complete change in her entire outlook. Her steely exterior drops from her, and she becomes the abject slave of "her man", ready, if need be, to follow him to the ends of the earth.

Such a situation forms a part of the story of "Nagana", the thrilling Universal dramn which opened to-day at the Central Theatre, with Tala Birell, exotic Viennese beauty, in the principal female role. Notorious for the multiplicity of her lovers, she finally falls genuinely in love with Melvyn Douglas in his role of Dr. Radner, head of an organization engaged in fighting the savages of jungle diseases in Africa, and follows him to a plague infested native village, in spite of the fact that he has ropulsed her advances. Braving the attacks of wild beasts, she finally arrives in Nagoru, and here begins a strange existence amid the savage tribes of the African interior. A fire brings about a veritable stampede of wild animals, and the picture reaches its climax in scenes of the wildest confusion. "Nagana" was directed y Ernst L. Frank.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

Just because it is possible to make a slam on a hand does not necessarily mean that the slam should be bid. We often find a hand containing several winning finesses and a lot of good breaks with which a slam is made.

Take, for example, the following hand, which is selected from a tournament recently held in New York. Several players made the slam—some at spades, some hearts, while one player was lucky enough to make a grand slam at no trump due to a spade opening. However, not one pair bid for a slam, ,

The Bidding

At the majority of tables South -bid one heart, West passed, and North made a one over one forcing bid of one spade.

South showed his second suit-diamonds. This makes the third constructive bid which now forces by us in any case whatever. North to re-bid. While North had a one over one force; he has nothing but length in spades, therefore his proper response is a sign-off bid of two spades.

South is now in a peculiar position—if he jumps to four hearts,

♠ Q-10-8-7-6-4 ₩9-7 ♦9-3 ♣ A-8-6 ♣J-5 ♥6-3-2 ଏ| ♦8-6-5 | ♦ K-J-₩K-10-Denler -J-9-4-3-2 SOUTH ♠ A-9-3 ¥ A-Q-J-10-8 ♦ A-Q-10-4

North is very apt to pass the hand He cannot re-bid the four card diamond suit.

One South player responded with three no trump and North. with the ace of the unbid suit. passed. West then made a bad opening of the jack of spades, so the declarer won six spade tricks, five heart tricks, the acc-of clubs and the ace of diamonds for a grand slam.

At another table South responded with three clubs showing the third suit, thereby forcing North to bid again. However, North was not interested and again signed off by bidding three spades and South went to four spades.

However, top score on the board went to the pair who played the hand at four hearts and scored the 100 honours.

The Play

A club was opened and was won in dummy with the ace. The nine of hearts was then led, and when East refused to cover, the eight was played by declarer. Another small heart was led and the ten 95 cts finessed. The ace picked East's king.

Declarer next played his ace of spades and followed it with a small spade which East won with the king. When the diamond was returned, the declarer refused to take the finesse, but went right up with his ace. He led a small ! apade which he won in dummy with the ten, and then discarded his three diamonds on dummy's three good spades.

Remember that you will win a ! great deal more in a year's time by bidding for game and making a slam than you will by bidding doubtful slams which fail more, than 50 per cent of the time.
